The State of Indiana will be stepping back from Stage 5 starting Sunday, November 15 under a new executive order from Governor Eric Holcomb, which was announced today during the Governor's weekly press conference. As of today, the executive order has not been released publicly and details are not available at this time, so the Decatur County Health Department is waiting on additional documentation and further recommendation from the State of Indiana to make any further announcements or recommendations for businesses and residents.

Decatur County's red status is based on the four color-coded metrics map, available at www.in.gov/coronavirus. To clarify- the red status given to us today by the Indiana Department of Health is very different from the red travel restriction implemented by the Decatur County Commissioners back in the spring.

When more information becomes available regarding this new executive order, the details and recommendations for Decatur County will come from the Decatur County Health Department.

Rick Nobbe, Decatur County Commissioner

Jerome Buening, Decatur County Commissioner

Mark Koors, Decatur County Commissioner
